Storage Pricing

We keep storage simple so you can easily calculate exactly what it will cost to store your products in our warehouse.

All inventory is billed based on the amount of space it occupies, measured in cubic feet. Storage is charged at a daily rate per cubic foot, so you only pay for the space your inventory actually uses. For reference, a box measuring 12" x 12" x 12" equals 1 cubic foot.

Your inventory levels are updated daily as orders ship and stock is replenished, ensuring you are only billed for the inventory physically stored in our warehouse each day. This transparent pricing model allows your storage costs to scale up or down with your business, eliminating the need to pay for unused space.

Storage by Cubic Foot	Monthly	$0.96
Storage by Cubic Foot	Daily	0.032

A product measuring 12" x 12" x 12" (1 cubic foot) costs just 3.2 cents per day to store in our warehouse. You are not being charged both rates. The monthly amount shown is an estimate of your storage cost if your inventory levels remained the same for the entire month. Actual storage charges are calculated daily and billed weekly, so your costs will fluctuate based on your inventory levels throughout the week.

Receiving Pricing

Our receiving fees are straightforward and transparent. We charge standard rates for receiving boxes, pallets, container unloads, and palletizing services. These rates apply to inbound shipments that comply with our receiving requirements, as outlined during onboarding. Additional fees are only assessed for custom projects, special handling requests, or non-compliant shipments that do not meet our receiving guidelines.

Per Box	Each	$2.50
Per Pallet	Each	$20
Per Item	Each	$0.01
Per Container (20 ft)	Each	$250
Per Container (40 ft)	Each	$450

A per-item receiving fee applies to all inbound deliveries in addition to the standard per-box, per-pallet, or container receiving fees.

Example: You ship 2 boxes with a total of 40 items

- 2 boxes received at $2.50 per box = $5.00
- 40 total items received at $0.01 per item = $0.40

Total Receiving Cost: $5.40

Wholesale Order Prep Pricing

Wholesale order preparation is charged per master carton rather than individual item picks. Optional services, such as pallet preparation and LTL shipment scheduling, are available upon request and may incur additional fees. Individual pick fees will only apply when items are not shipped as part of a master carton. Additional fees may also apply for custom projects, special handling, or other non-standard work requirements.

Wholesale Fulfillment	Each	$2.50
Master Carton	Each	$0.50
Per Item (if Master Carton not used)	Each	$0.25
Pallet Prep (pallet included, shrink wrapped, labeled)	Each	$8
LTL Pickup (scheduling, BOL paperwork)	Each	$5
Barcode Labeling	Each	$0.55

A master carton is a manufacturer-sealed carton containing a predetermined quantity of products that does not require opening, counting, or adding/removing items. Orders shipped using full master cartons are billed per carton. Per-item fees will apply when products must be manually counted, picked, or when items are not shipped as part of a full master carton.

Amazon Prep Pricing

Amazon FBA prep is similar to wholesale order preparation and is typically charged per master carton. A master carton is a manufacturer-sealed carton containing a predetermined quantity of products that does not require opening, counting, or adding/removing items. Additional services such as FNSKU labeling, poly bagging, and bundling are available upon request and may incur additional fees. Per-item fees will apply when products must be manually counted, labeled, or otherwise handled individually rather than shipped as full master cartons.

Amazon Prep	Each	$2.50
Master Carton	Each	$0.50
Per Item (if Master Carton not used)	Each	$0.25
Pallet Prep (pallet included, shrink wrapped, labeled)	Each	$8
LTL Pickup (scheduling, BOL paperwork)	Each	$5

All labels are printed in-house and are included as part of the labeling fee.
